Stinging Indictment of Prohibition Offi cials in Iowa.

The language is severe at times. The following are examples, concerning Iowa: "Under the operation of the law, and without hindrance or rebuke from the Prohibition authorities, the homes and families of citizens of Iowa are daily outraged. Prohibitionists in high places have interpreted the statutes to authorize the search of persons as well as homes. The law serves as

Off the Hawaiian Islands. [Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

New York, July 25th.—[Special.]—The Hevald in a long editorial, styles the Hawaiian Islands the "Malta of the Pacific," and says: "While it is not the wish of the Government to interfere with the autonomy of these islands, it would be greatly detrimental to our interests to allow any not the great powers of Europe to acquire a dominating influence there. We did not wage the Mexican war to get possession of California, nor purchase Alaska, nor build the Union Pacific road to be brought to a sudden halt by the loss of our rights to those islands. The trade of the Pacific ocean belongs to us by its geographical proximity. The Hawaiian Islands being, as Webster declared, ten times nearer to the United States than to the powers of Europe, we cannot allow any nation on the face of the earth to rob us of it. This is the universal American sentiment, and the sooner England sees it the better. The rights of Americans are paramount, and the Government must see to it that they are maintained."

IT IS NO DICKER. Morris, the California Pitcher, Not to be Sold to New York.

PITTSBURG (Pa.), July 25th.—[Special.]—The New York deal with Morris, the California pitcher, is off. The Manager of the New York Baseball Club arrived yesterday with a $2,000 check in his pocket, expecting to take his man back with him. But Morris' recent good work had turned the tide of sentiment in his favor, and it was deemed on all sides useless to release him in the absence of any prospect of securing another pitcher in his place. After an hour's talk over the matter, Mutrie agreed with President Nimick and Manager Phillips that it would be bad policy for them to release Morris at present. Mutrie left for New York last night. Morris is pleased at the outcome of the affair, and says he prefers to remain with the Pitts.

Republicans Moving in the Matter of the Next National Campaign. Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press [Copyright, 1887, by the California Associated Press.]

New York, July 25th.—[Special.]—The Tribune says that the favorable responses called out by the proposal of the Republican Club of this city—that a Convention of such be held here to organize a National Republican League—gives promise that the plan will be carried to a successful issue. The idea of the originators is that this movement is not to consider or indorse candidates, but to discuss the subject of organizing Republican clubs, and the best method of carrying on the work. One matter that will receive thorough and thoughtful consideration is how to interest the young men in politics. Hundreds of replies have been received to the circulars sent out. They come from New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Kansas, Washington Territory, Maryland and other States.

EASTERN FRESHETS.

Booming Rivers in New England-Unpre DOVER (N. H.). July 25th.—All the rivers in this part of the State are higher now than was ever known before in summer. The freshets in Lamprey river at New-market this morning carried away a large part of the dam of the cotton mills, and the foundation of one of the buildings. The engines and derrick employed in constructing the new dam were swept away. GREAT BARRINGTON (MASS.), July 25th.—The greatest damage by the storm was in the valleys of the Green and Black rivers, the major portion of the flood passing down the latter river, causing great destruction on the New York side. The county eventually had to pay this sum, as the contractor added that amount to his bill. Two Station Agents of the Milwaukee and $1. A milk contractor said his contracts cost him about $2,500 each to obtain, but that in the end it all came out of the County Treasury. Of the defendants, the worst blackened by today's testimony was Warden Varnell, of the Insane Asylum.

M'GARIGLE STILL AT LARGE.

M'GARIGLE STILL AT LARGE.

CHICAGO, July 25th.—To-night an officer from Chicago, in pursuit of McGarigle, reached Mackinaw Island, and is inaugurating measures to prevent the fugitive from getting through the straits to Canada. It is understood that the Sheriff is in communication with the commander of the United States revenue cutter Andrew Johnson, at Milwaukee, and that the Federal Government's only craft on the lake will be utilized in the chase. To-morrow's Inter-Ocean will state that McGarigle will not be safe in Canada. It is hinted that should he be once located, the lack of extradition will not prevent his capture in secret by American officers and his hurried return to Chicago.

COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS.

Common carriers may continue the issuance of mileage passenger tickets, the charges for which must be reasonable and free from unjust discrimination or unreasonable preference. Persons belonging to the class known as commercial t avelers are not privileged to ride over railroads at lower rates than are paid by other persons. Whatever reasonable rates commercial travelers are made to pay, other travelers may be asked to pay. To charge one more than another is unjust discrimination, and this is true, whether the tickets issued are mileage tickets in some other form. The refusal of the defendant—the Chicago and Grand Trunk Railway Company—to sell complainant Larrison a thousand-mile ticket for $20, the price at which said company was selling such tickets to commercial travelers, and its neglect to publish the rates at which defendants were offering to sell mileage tickets, were alike in conflict with the mercial travelers, and its neglect to publish the rates at which defendants were offering to sell mileage tickets, were alike in conflict with the Act to regulate commerce.

The case of the St. Louis wholesale grocers against the Missouri Pacific embodies a complaint that, while commutation tickets are sold at rates which would amount to not more than $15 for 1,000 miles, thousand-mile tickets upon which commercial travelers travel are not sold for less than $25. The Commission is also asked to order and direct that discrimination be made in favor of commercial travelers. The Commission does not regard the fact that commutation tickets are put on sale at a given rate to be one that entitles the purchasers of milesge tickets to complain of unjust discrimination. If it charges higher rate the circumstances and conditions, the opinion says, are not the same. The Commission finds nothing in the testimony submitted going to show that a Hands of Detroit. DETROIT, July 25th.—About 4,000 people enjoyed to-day's game between the Deiroit and Chicago teams. The California wonder ceased to be a wonder early in the game, at times the phenomenal fielding alone preventing the homelub from scoring more runs. Ryan, Burns, Williamson, Thompson and Bennett led in the fielding honors. It was the first game Bennett fielding honors. IRISH AFFAIRS The Government Explains Why All Ireland Was Proclaimed.

London, July 25th.—In the House of Commons this evening Morley asked what had happened to explain the proclamation of the whole of Ireland, since the Government had assured the House that the law was as well obeyed in some parts of Ireland as in any part of Great Britain.

Balfour replied that he had no reason to change his option—that parts of Ireland were as quiet as any part of England. What the Government had done was not to apply the whole Crimes Act to Ireland generally, but only the subsections dealing with rioting, unlawful assemblies and the destruction of the police.

Sexton asked whether the Executive before issuing the proclamation, distinguished those counties where it was necessary to punish crime.

Probably that name was Clement; probably Ma-rot came of the stock of the sweet singer; probably the unconscious poetry of the na-ture welled up in this latest freak of the adolescence Clementine. The difficulty is to tell the tale in prose—an unfeeling medium at best. 'Twas in the fair Provence of late, land of the viol, vine and fig, that Marot left the prison gate; he would not beg, he could not dig. Along the straight wide ways, and white with wealth of dust that made them dumb, he tramped and took what things he might, and waited for whate'er might come. Lo! in the pleasant poplar land, with towers above its gray old garden, he saw an ancient castle stand that had no old knight for a warden. How lone it stood! The doors were locked, the gates were barred, the halls were dumb; he pulled and pushed and kicked and knocked, but nobody would ever come. The cases entitled Lewis Larrison against the Gradd Trunk Railroad Company, and the Michigan Central against the same company, were heard together. The charge is unjust discrimination. Larrison complains that the road would not sell him a thousand-mile ticket at the price paid by commercial travelers, and the Michigan Central complains that the Grand Trunk Company was selling to commercial travelers at lower rates than to the public generally. The defendants admit the fact as charged, but aver that nothing alleged is in conflict with the law. The opinion reviews and discusses at length the various points set up by the defendant, and concludes as follows:

THE PRISON INVESTIGATION.

Warden McComb has demanded an in vestigation into his conduct of the Folsom State Prison. It is perhaps as well that he has done so, since certain sensational newspapers have laid before the public a series of extravagant charges made by desperate convicts who are undergoing the severe punishment of being locked in welllighted and ventilated cells (except during exercise hours), and fed on the best prisonfare furnished in any penitentiary, because they have repeatedly threatened and attempted to kill their jailers, or have defiantly broken the police regulations of the prison, and refuse to promise obedience to reasonable rules.

Yet the affairs of this prison have been so freely open to daily inspection; there has been such remarkable publicity given to all the details of its management, and the coming and going of the public to and into the prison has been so little obstructed and the examinations by the Board of Directors have been so frequent, that it does seem that the expense of a special investigation is unnecessary.

There must be, of course, no secret in quisitions, no hidden dungeons with inmates cut off from all possible hearing, no cruel and barbarous punishment inflicted The spirit of the age and the humanity o the law forbid them, and racks, thumbscrews and methods of torture in our prisons never can be tolerated. But that the upon the complaint of a handful of the convicts, in order to advertise a newspaper and to aid its boom for notoriety, is anything but agreeable. The very fact that reporters were given free access to the prisoners' cells and wards that they were permitted to comand go in the ward for "incorrigibles" and interview the convicts without being embarrassed by the presence of the Warden or his Captains, is in itself one of the strongest testimonies in favor of the prison administration. Had there been any reason to fear the convicts' charges, the prison officials could have refused admission to the ward for "incorrigibles," or have granted interviews only in the pres ence of the Warden, and such procedure would have been justified by many strong considerations. The Prison Directors frequently visit the State Prisons. They have complete control of these places, and there is no barrier to prevent their visitations being thoroughly inquisitorial every

In addition to these facts, the prison is frequently visited by citizens from different parts of the State, who see the convicts, and who can have interviews with them at proper times. Discharged men are constantly coming out and mingling again insists upon strict enforcement of the reguwith the world, and there is nothing to lation of the Order that commands sobriprevent them retailing accounts of any ety, and forbids the recognition of liquor barbarous practices in the prison.

Under these circumstances it is wholly dustry for which the organization was improbable that there have been any such erected. It will invite the commendation cruelties practiced at Folsom as are of the mass of the people. For it is not to charged by the men in the "incorrigible be understood that the Knights of Labor ward." The investigation that will problis a temperance organization. As we read ably follow the Warden's request ought its regulations, it does not condemn men to be very searching, and such simply because of their following, but it publicity given to every fact does declare that it cannot successfully addeveloped that there will remain no vance workingmen upon physical or intelshadow of a doubt in any mind as to the tectual planes unless they are, in a degree exact truth. THE Northey-Morrow jury bribe improglio has been further complicated by Morrow for $1,000 for services rendered in "shadowing" Northey and others for three months at the instance of Morrow. Morrow and his friends enter a positive denial of all wrong-doing in these matters, and it remains for the Courts and juries to unravel the tangled web and evolve the truth. If jury-bribing, which in San Francisco has quite become an art, does not interfere, there is reason to expect racy developments. That there are some "live coals" beneath all the smoke is unquestioned. If the legal investigation results in disclosing them and fixing the crime of bribery somewhere, there will be rendered compensation for much of the ill which has grown out of jury corruption.

It expresses the same thought this journal terview with a Record-Union reprevoiced last week, when it says, referring to issue. Mr. Filcher, in a conversation the sensational charges against the Folsom at this office on the following day, went prison management by the Examiner, and through the entire article as reproduced from the Examiner, and the facts as by this paper, and marked whatever he regarded as errors of statement. These cor rections were entirely of the Examiner' statement, and not a word was changed of the statement made by the RECORD UNION. Doings in the Police Court.

There was a motley crew present Monday morning when Judge Buckley began his daily invoice of crime. Every prisoner, regardless of social condition and degree of degradation, seemed to have friends.....

Dick Wallace, the opium fiend, forfeited $10 rather than face the Court. Jack Cassidy, a drunk, also forfeited $5.....Jim Smith, alias Morgan, was present on a charge of getting hold of the wrong purse when he was released from jail. It proved to be a case of two Dromios, or rather two Morgans, and the purse of J. S. Morgan, having $23 in it, was given Jim Morgan instead of his, which only contained a paltry $10. When called upon to explain the dock fairly shook with the "I-I-I, your Honor," and "I-I-I did it by mistake." The Judge seemed to think a mistake." The Judge seemed to think a mistake." The Judge seemed to think a mistake." degradation, seemed to have friends. take." The Judge seemed to think a mistake might possibly happen that way once in a hundred years, and dismissed the excited and stuttering prisoner.....Julia "Well, just let him keep thinking I'm in a hundred years, and dismissed the excited and stuttering prisoner.....Julia Kelloe, a lady seventy-eight years of age, appeared and on promising to repair a certain dilapidated sidewalk was informed that her case was continued one week, in order to see if she would comply with the ordinance......Edward Glennan, a young man who was evidently intent upon sowing some wild oats in this city, arrived Sunday from the country, and about the first thing from the country, and about the first thing offered him real cheap was a pistol. He paid $2 for it and then displayed it in such a reckless manner on Fourth street that he was taken in. Edward was not conscious of what he did in the salcon, and seemed as pensive as a Sunday-school boy. The pistol and his careless manage-would split his head open. As he did not want a split head, he had Frisbee arrested. Frisbee and his wife both told different stories, and the defendant was booked for a $10 fine......T. B. Cropper had his case continued one day.....The cases of T. Clark and Louise Monnanin were continued until next Friday......When the case of J. Sullivan was called, Mrs. Sullivan did not re-n as much as he was so charged by Rosa King, who lives on Fourth street. Rosa told a bitter story of how Lafe had abused her and finally struck and knocked her down in the hallway. Her story was corroborated by that of her 12 year old daughter. Lafe made a statement fully estabng Rosa's disgrace and his own shame and bolstered up the story, which needed no confirmation, by calling three or four and he would pay $30 to the injured Rosa.

Wilson vs. P. Riordan was heard in Judge over 5 years of age. At these prices the Van Fleet's Court, and decided in favor of the plaintiff. The facts involved in the case are such as to make it an interesting one. The plaintiff-a colored woman-was a slave in Alabama in 1841, and Joseph Goslin purchased her for $1,000. He came to California in 1849, but afterwards re-turned, and in 1851 brought Maria with him to California, and since that time the plaintiff and Goslin have borne the de facto relations of husband and wife. They set themselves up in the laundry business, she doing the ironing and he the washing. Maria also did the collecting, and turned the money over to Mr. Goslin. He made Archbishop Alemany his banker at first, and afterwards the whole amount was placed in the hands of Bishop Riordan. In February last Goslin died, but before dying gave the certificate of deposit to Maria, telling her to bury him, pay certain debts and to retain the balance. The whole deposit amounted to about $1,800. The Pubic Administrator intervened in the settlement of the estate, claiming that under our laws the white and colored races cannot lawfully marry. Hence there could not in this case be any community property, and as Goslin left no heirs, the Administrator ought of right to take charge of the estate. Archbishop Riordan gave the money into Court, content to abide the judicial untwisting of this legal knot. An Interesting Meeting.

The Ice Business. Jacob Hoehn, of this city, was in Truckee a few days ago, when he was interviewed relative to ice and ice crops by a reporter of the Truckee Republican. Among other things, he stated that the demand for the crystal product of the Sierra was increasing from year to year, and that the consumption of ice this year would exceed that of last year by many thousand tons. While the crop put up along the Truckee river was larger than ever before harvested, yet there would be very little, if any, ice carried over until next year. JACKSON, Miss., April 29. 1887.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC COMPANY, Atlanta, Ga.:

Gentlemen—I have been an invalid pensioner for forty years, having contracted pathonary and other diseases in the Mexican War, but not till the 1st of March, 1875, did I feel any symptoms of rheumatism. On that day I was suddenly stricken with that disease in both hips and ankles. For twenty days I walk on crutches. Then the pain was less violent, but it shifted from joint to joint. For weeks I would be tetally disabled, either on one side of my body or the other. The pain never left me a moment for eleven years and seven months—that is from March 1, 1875, when I was first attacked, to October 1, 1886, when I was first attacked to October 1, 1886, when I was cured. During these eleven years of intense suffering I tried innumerable perscriptions from various physicians, and tried every thing suggested by riends, but if I ever received the least benefit from any medicine taken internally or externally, I am not aware of it. Finally, about the first of September, I made arrangements to go to the Hot Springs of Arksmass, having despaired of every other remedy, when I accidentally met an old acquaintance, Mr. King, now of the Lawrence House, of this city. He had once been a great sufferer from rheumatism, and, as I suppose, had been cured by a visit to Hot Springs. But when I met him, he told me his visit to the Hot Springs was in vain—he found no relief. On his return from Hot Springs he heard, for the first time, of the S. S. S. as a remedy for rheumatism. He tried it and six bottles made a complete cure. Several years have passed since, but he has had no return of the disease.

I immediately returned to try it. In September Litest few heards. Used by the United S' Alea Government.

COMMERCIAL. Word was received in town Thursday SACRAMENTO MARKET. Valley, that, if what it is represented to be, will be the most important ever made on the north side or in this county. The strike was made in a drift on the 400-foot level, and consists of the usual width of vein matter, which is full of specks of gold. The entire rock seems powdered with gold, and estimates of its value place it as worth about $10,000 to the ton. Rock of such a value, should there prove to be a large body of it, will cause the value of the mine to run up into the millions. Ever since Mr. Wickham took charge of the Taylor he has, in his development work, daily showed that the mine was a valuable one, and has continually been taking out large amounts of high grade ore, and now has a very valuable dump alongside the mill. chimney of exceptionally rich rock, is valuable not only for the gold there is in it, but for the fact that it shows conclusively that the district in which the Taylor is situated is a rich one, and that the mineral is there, needing only proper work to find it. This strike is a decided boom to the north side, which has for years suffered the alter nate fever of success and chill of despondency occasioned by the surface manipulations of mismanaged prospect holes. It has again and again been asserted that there is za good mineral on the north side as in any other section of the county, yet, either from lack of capital or tiradity, the miner have not been developed. It remained for 70 mm which has hone white surmounting heavy obstacles and serious drawbacks.

A Healthful Morning Glass.

Various opinions are held as to the healthfulness of drinking water in the morning before eating. Dr. Leuf, a German scientist, seys: "When water is taken into the full or partly full stomach, it does not mingle with the food, as we are generally taught, but passes along quickly between the food and the lesser curvature, toward the pylorus, through which it passes into the intestine. The secretion of mucus by the libring membrane is constant, and during the night a considerable amount accumulates in the stomach; some of its liquid pertion is absorbed, and that which remains is thick and tenacious. If food is taken anto the stomach when in this condition, it becomes coated with this mucus, and the secretion of the grastic juice and its action are delayed. These facts show the value of a goblet of water before breakfast. This washes out the tenacious mucus, and the secretion of the grastic juice and its action are delayed. This removal of the accumulated mucus from the stomach is probably one of the reasons why taking soup at the beginning of a meal has always been found so beneficial."
